eBankSystems Announces Environmentally Friendly Enhancements to Report Delivery Application

BISTRO Serves up Green Option for Community Banks

LUBBOCK, TX OCT. 21, 2009..... eBankSystems Inc., a leading provider of banking software applications and services for community banks, today announces it has added a “green” option for its report delivery system, BISTRO. The product enhancement will allow community banks to help the environment and save money & resources at the same time.

BISTRO is the report delivery system for eBank’s flagship product, Trinisys. It routes nightly reports to specific printers on a bank’s wide-area network, allowing them to eliminate couriers to and from branches. BISTRO also saves users time because the reports are generated and delivered instantaneously.

With the latest enhancement to BISTRO, the reports are routed to specific folders on a bank’s network instead of printing them to paper. BISTRO’s green-reporting functionality is a very sensible way to cut costs on paper, printer toner and electricity. For example, on paper alone, if a bank uses five reams of paper per business day for analyzing reports, it can save up to 1,200 reams of paper per year. Additionally, BISTRO also helps reduce the wear and tear on printers, reducing maintenance and extending the life of the printers.

“We are always looking for ways to improve the processes involved with a bank’s operations. Our customers are also looking for ways to cut costs and improve efficiency. BISTRO’s newly added green functionality is the direct result of listening closely to our customers and helping them solve a problem that has a direct impact on our environment,” said Tripp Boren, eBankSystems’ VP of operations.
